Cereals in the Third Millennium*

First circular

HOSTED BY:

ISTITUTO SPERIMENTALE PER LA CEREALICOLTURA (I.S.C.)
SEZIONE DI FIORENZUOLA D' ARDA

Dear Section Member and Colleague,

I am pleased to invite you to attend the Meeting of EUCARPIA Cereal Section
“From Biodiversity to Genomics: Breeding Strategies for Small Grain Cereals in the Third Millennium”.

The main objective of the Meeting is to design novel breeding strategies through the integration of molecular biology into traditional breeding. The role of small grain cereals in the near future as food crops (including functional food) and non-food crops (industrial and pharmaceutical uses) will be emphasized.

Oral and poster presentations will give us the present status of theoretical and practical breeding.

A.M. Stanca

Chairperson of EUCARPIA Cereal Section

The topic areas will include:

- Biodiversity for breeders
- Progress in small grain cereal breeding:
conventional and non-conventional breeding strategies (including breeding for organic farming)
- Breeding for quality: spaghetti, bread, malt, animal feeding, functional food
- Breeding for biotic and abiotic stresses:
how the genes work to cope with environment
- Cereals: new model plants for nutraceutical and vaccines
- Structural and functional genomics:
from Phenotype to Genotype in the post-genomic era.

Great importance will be given to poster sessions, for which sufficient time for discussion will be taken into account.
